From the Inside Flap

"[MORSE IS] THE MOST PRICKLY, CONCEITED, AND GENUINELY BRILLIANT DETECTIVE SINCE HERCULE POIROT."

--The New York Times Book Review

This time Inspector Morse brings the imposition on himself. He could have been vacationing in Greece instead of investigating a murder that the police have long since written off. But he finds the crime--the brutal killing of a suburban churchwarden--fascinating. In fact, he uncovers not one murder but two, for the fatal fall of St. Frideswides vicar from the church tower Morse reckons to be murder as well. And as he digs into the lives and unsanctified lusts of the late vicar's erring flock, the list of the dead grows longer. Not even the oddly appealing woman he finds scrubbing the church floor can compensate Morse for the trouble he's let himself in for. So he has another pint, follows his hunches, and sets out to untangle the deadly business of homicide. . . .

SERVICE OF ALL THE DEAD BY COLIN DEXTER PDF

Chief Inspector Morse was alone among the congregation in suspecting continued unrest in the quiet parish of St Frideswide's. Most people could still remember the churchwarden's murder. A few could still recall the murderer's suicide. Now even the police had closed the case. Until a chance meeting among the tombstones reveals startling new evidence of a conspiracy to deceive...

Truly enjoyable.

By Robert I. Biederwolf

One of the best Colin Dexter novels in my opinion.

Oldie but goody

By Linda Pagliuco

Came across the audio version at the library and listened in the car. It was fun hearing Kevin Whately, the narrator, competently do his own Sgt. Lewis and Inspector Morse. Service/Dead is a complicated mystery, one that highlights the likelihood that some crimes require more than basic investigative skills. Morse's intuition is what makes him an intriguing detective, though sometimes his irascibility is hard to take. If only he'd show some appreciation to Lewis, a dedicated cop if ever there was one, though one lacking Morse's innate talents. This is one of Dexter's more complicated cases, but step by step the solution becomes clear. He is certainly a skilled writer, more literate than most in the genre. Always satisfying.

Morse, that clever bugger!

By Ellen Rappaport

First the list of characters:

Rev. Lionel Lawson-Vicar @ St. Frideswide church.

Philip Lawson-younger brother of Lionel.

Paul Morris-Church organist.

Peter Morris-member of the choir and son of Paul.

Ruth Rawlinson-spinster and charwoman at the church.

Mrs. Rawlinson-invalid widowed Mother of Ruth.

Harry Josephs-churchwarden and husband of Brenda.

Brenda Josephs-wife of Harry.

The parish of St. Frideswide remains at peace until the murder of the churchwarden followed by an apparent suicide. Morse and Lewis are on the case but are they being led by facts or rumors?

The pertinent facts lie within each of these characters and how they interacted with the others. What is perceived at the first may not be the actual truth in these relationships. How that clever Bugger goes about revealing the facts is what sets Morse (and Lewis) apart from all other sleuthing teams. In this case, and in my opinion, unsurpassed.

C.D.'s description of Morse ascending the tower with Lewis close behind is so realistically presented that C.D. had my head spinning.

This most engrossing mystery with all the facts not what they appear to be is NOT TO BE MISSED. An excellent read then-an excellent read now.

Absolutely beyond a cozy and then some.
