[Siren Classic: Erotic Contemporary Romance, HEA] Tristan Holloway is in desperate need of a roommate. When Kash Alexander comes into her life, she doesn't expect to have a roomie that towers over everyone else, is covered in tattoos and pierced, and has perpetual scuffed-up knuckles. But there is something dark and deadly that lurks below the surface that makes up Kash, and she is drawn to him. When she stumbles upon an underground cage fight, the last person she expects to see is Kash, especially within the cage. The way he fights, dirty and raw, should have Tristan running the other way, but instead she finds herself enthralled. As if that one night sets into motion everything else, Tristan finds herself involved with Kash in every way possible. The only problem? Kash isn't interested in a relationship. With a battered past that haunts him, and a future that threatens Tristan's life, the only way they can overcome it all is together. ** A Siren Erotic Romance

Looking for a hot, bad boy?

By eRomantix

Something Firece starts with Tristan's room-mate and lover walking out on her. They haven't really been in a relationship more like roommates with benefits. Even though Tristan isn't really sorry to see him go it leaves her in a bind. She really needs another roomie to cover half the rent. In comes Kash. recommended by a friend he is new to town and needs somewhere to stay. While looking intimidating with a fighters body and guarded personality Kash and Tristan get on really well. Too well. Kash really isn't looking of a relationship and Tristain is leery about dating a roommate again.

Their relationship is complicated by the fact Kash isn't being open about his line of work. While not lying, he doesn't come clean to Tristan and in the end she finds out by accident. By this stage the physical attraction gets the better of them. I did have one moment when they are making out and Kash is still covered in an opponents blood that I found a little off-putting. But then things got steamy and I let it go. Even before they get out of bed Kash is regretting them being together. In his brutal Kash style he tells Tristan.

Kash doesn't want a relationship but you can see he really likes Tristan. His hot and cold act towards Tristan did dive me a little crazy. Thankfully it didn't last long. Kash is gritty and unapologetic about what he does. At the same time he is uneasy about Tristan knowing what he does and why. Tristian, Kash and their friends seemed a little young in some regards. Something Fierce almost had a bit of a new adult feel about the storyline. Saying that the content was defiantly all adult with a decent dose of sex and some violence. After all Kash is a cage fighter. I liked the Jenika Snows writing style she created believable, interesting characters and kept me reading to see if Kash and Tristan could work through their issues.

This is the first book in The Underground series by Janikia Snow. I have read all of the three books in the series. I must say I really liked this one and the third in the series Deeper . The second book I didn't connect with the charcters quite so much. Anyway start of with Something Fierce and see what you think!

First book in an amazing series

By Romantic Bookaholic

In this story we meet two people who are complete opposites of each other. You have Kash who is tattooed, pierced, and a cage fighter, then we has Tristan who is sweet, average, and lonely. It starts off as Tristan's roommate\lover moves out. Then a friends recommends Kash as a roommate replacement.

The relationship starts off good but as Kash isn't really opened with what he does, it does become kinda strained. I don't want to give anything away, but one thing that was a little off putting was has Kash acted. He was back and forth on how he treated Tristian.

Other than that this story is an amazing starts to a new series. I have already bought the other two book that come next and can't wait to read them! Enjoy!

4 1/2 stars loved this book

By B.E. Love

Tristan just found out that her roommate is leaving without giving her any notice, so with her house payment due Tristan knows she needs to find a new room mate soon. When her friend tells her that her boyfriends long time friend is moving to town and looking for a place Tristan knows she has finally found her new room mate. Then Tristan meets him, Kash is frightening, he's huge, he has tattoos everywhere, and he's huge(yes I said that twice). But as Tristan gets to know Kash she see's there is more under the surface and that Kash is hiding behind his big wall.

There's an instant attraction both Tristan and Kash feel for one another but both try to fight it, till one night at a party a guy try's to hurt Tristan and Kash comes to her rescue. Now Kash and Tristan see that they are not only attracted to each other but that they care about the other, but Kash has had a hard life and he's hiding not only his past from Tristan but what he does for a living. When Tristan finds out she has to decide if the Kash she thought she knew is the real Kash or if this new Kash is the true Kash. As Tristan and Kash continue to grow closer Kash's beliefs about himself threaten to keep Tristan and Kash apart. It soon becomes clear that they will both have to decide if they should move on or risk it all for each other.

I loved this book Kash was hot, possessive, strong, powerful, fierce and protective. He was a great hero that was easy to love. I flew through this book because it was so good. I wish it was longer so we could have went deeper into Kash's past and more in depth into Kash and Tristan's future but even with that said this was a great book. Jenika Snow did a great job and is a fantastic author, I've never read her books before but I will be checking out her other books in the future. I love that this is a series with different main characters in each book, and we meet the hero and heroine for book two in this book. I also loved that this book in in both Kash and Tristan's point of view. This is one of those books that I overlooked for a while and then I found again, and I'm so lad I did.
